Temple University, an urban public research university with an international reach, has been creating knowledge, improving lives, and engaging the community for over 125 years. Temple’s superb faculty and broad curriculum of over 300 academic programs provide superior educational opportunities for talented and motivated students without regard to their status or station in life. That tradition of access and excellence has made Temple’s student body one of the most diverse in the nation.

“As the Director of Residential Life, I have been able to work with an amazing team of colleagues to building a First Class inclusive Residential Life program focused on student learning, support, and success. This is a major accomplishment and one that would not have been possible without the support of campus colleagues and a dedicated team willing to believe in a vision to make a difference in the lives of students living in our residence halls.”

- Kevin W. Williams
Director, Residential Life

The Office of University Housing & Residential Life provides an inclusive residential learning environment with programs, services, and experiences that support the mission of Temple University.

We seek to build transformative communities where students live learning, learn living, and inspire each other.
University Housing and Residential Life offers financial support to full-time graduate students through these four employment opportunities:

LIVE-ON POSITIONS

1. GRADUATE RESIDENT COORDINATOR
   The Resident Coordinator (RC) is a 10.5 month live-in graduate position within UH&RL. RCs work directly with professional and student staff members and offer services and assistance to members of Temple University’s residence hall population. They assist with the management of a residential life program in a university housing facility ranging from 150 to 650 students on Temple University’s Main campus. The RC’s primary responsibilities are management of community council, staff programming efforts, and serving as a student conduct officer.

   “I am very thankful for the RC position, as it has given me a hands-on experience applicable to a wide variety of helping professions. I would not get these experiences from course work alone.”

   - Blaze Campbell

2. GRADUATE RESIDENT ASSISTANT
   Graduate Resident Assistants (RAs) work to create a positive environment by fostering a sense of community within the residence halls, by providing help and assistance to students and by working with students and staff to ensure the best possible operation of the residence halls. RAs are expected to serve students and to uphold the standards of Temple University and UH&RL in the highest regard possible. It is essential that all staff members are viewed as credible, positive role models that abide by the university and UH&RL policies and procedures, the RA position description & contract, and the housing contract. RAs are expected to behave in a manner that is professional and attuned to the goals and objectives of UH&RL, both on and off campus.

LIVE-OFF POSITIONS

3. GRADUATE STUDENT WORKER FOR RECRUITMENT
   The position assists the Associate Director of Residential Life for Staff Development & Administration by providing direct support to the comprehensive staff recruitment and selection process, including both professional and student staff positions. This is a live-off position with administrative and creative responsibilities to meet the recruiting needs of the residential life team.

4. GRADUATE STUDENT WORKER FOR STUDENT DEVELOPMENT
   The position assists the Associate Director of Residential Life for Student Development & Assessment by providing direct support to the overall residential experience program, not limited to Community Development, Leadership Development, Inclusivity and Academic Initiatives. This is a live-out position with administrative and creative responsibilities to meet the developmental needs of our residential population.
